

Waunakee
Rotary Club

Sept. 22, 2005
Vol. 38, No. 12

The speaker scheduled for the Sept. 15 meeting of the Waunakee Rotary Club didn't show up, but a variety of announcements demonstrated that the club has a lot on its plate besides lunch.

Dick Pilsner said the Octoberfest Oct. 8-9 will include a business Olympics, which should be a lot of fun. See Dick for details.

Rotary International has a lot of connections to relief efforts in the wake of Hurricane Katrina. See the Rotary web site for links that tell how you can help.

There is room for more golfers at the Sept. 29 golf outing. Tell your friends.

President Greg Garton said the Lake Melvin Yacht Club is planning a co-ed softball tournament in Dane Sept. 23. Last year, the Yacht Club helped 30 families in Waunakee, Dane and Lodi with cash, food and toys during the holidays. Greg invites all Rotarians to help this good cause.

Tom Reis showed the proposal for holiday lights at the Village Park. The lights will be on the Monday after Thanksgiving through New Year's. Rotarians will be asked to help assemble and to be on the site during the display from 6-9 p.m. Letters have gone to 280 local Chamber of Commerce members, who are being asked to donate. The cost is expected to be about $30,000.

Rotarians also will be asked to call on one or two business owners to seek donations for the display.

The holiday lights display should attract lots of people to the community.
